FALL MOVEMENT OF CATTLE IS EXPANDING

(Special Correspondence.)

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 13.—The fall move of cattle to market is expanding toward its culmination, which will come in September, and the market is slightly lower than a week ago. The run of 25,000 head here Monday, including 3,000 calves, presages another heavy week, and prices were weak to 10 lower Monday, although with good life to the trade. The outlet for killing cattle is better than a short time ago, but stocker and feeder trade is suffering temporarily on account of dry, hot weather in some sections, which threatens crop prospects. Rains are promised from Washington for the dry sections the middle of this week, which will be of great benefit to the market. Arrivals include a fair number of cattle from the panhandle country, cows at $3.10 to $3.50, stockers $3.50 to $4.50, calves, $4.00 to $7.00. Calves are 25 to 50 cents higher than a week ago. A train of Colorado from Grand Junction was here last week, beef steers at $4.40 and $4.60, feeders, $4.00 to $4.25, cows $3.45 to $3.85; none of this shipment above medium class or flesh. Good weight Kansas grass steers are selling at $5.00 to $6.25, similar to steers now coming out of northern Colorado to market. Sixty per cent of the quarantine cattle have been marketed for this season, and unless favorable market conditions continue, a good share of the balance will be held and fed through the winter, which means that receipts of cattle at the markets will so adjust themselves this fall as to insure fairly good prices all fall.

Sheep and lambs are coming pretty freely, and prices are holding up good. Lambs sold firm all of last week, and another shipment of the Peery lambs from Utah, was here Monday. The lot Monday was lighter than those last week, 65 pounds, but the excellent price received then, $7.50, was duplicated Monday, the wethers and yearlings included Monday at $5.25. Ewes are selling up to $5.00, and breeding ewes above this figure when sufficiently desirable. Feeding lambs around $6.00, feeding wethers $4.35 to $4.75, goats at $3.50 to $4.00, and $3.00 for the country. Arizona continues shipping pretty freely, lambs lately up to $7.60; medium class muttons $4.50.

Disagreeable at Home

Lots of men and women who are agreeable with others, get "cranky" at home. Its not disposition. Its the liver. If you find in yourself that you feel cross around the house, little things worry you, just buy a bottle of Balar's Heibine and put your liver in shape. You and everybody around you will feel better for it. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by Center Block Dept. Drug Co.

SIDELIGHTS ON THAT LION CHASE NEAR MINERAL HILL

(Special Correspondence.)

Mineral Hill, N. M., Aug. 13.—Although they did not find the lion that has done so much damage near Hermit's peak, every member in the party which went with Col. "Buffalo" Jones will never forget the hunt on account of the number of accidents. Only two men came out without an accident; and the mule carrying the moving picture photographing outfit ran away. Old John and Little Fannie, Mr. Fisher's valuable hounds, kept a "fox" instead of the lion up a high perpendicular tree for hours, waiting for Col. "Buffalo" Jones and party to arrive with the ropes and picture outfit.

Col. "Buffalo" Jones started from Las Vegas last Wednesday with a party consisting of J. D. Hand and his cousin, Will Hand, Walt Naylor, S. L. Fisher and Will Steadman, colored. "Buffalo" Jones expected to capture the lion alive with ropes, just as he has done hundreds of times. The hounds soon picked up what proved later to be a fox trail. Will Steadman's horse slipped and fell and the mule that he was leading ran away with the picture outfit. His horse also deserted him, but he managed after a time to hobble into camp.

Soon after Steadman's accident Will Hand's horse slipped and fell, smashing a valuable gold watch, but Mr. Hand escaped with only a few scratches.

A few hundred yards further, Walt Naylor's horse fell, completely demolishing his gun. It is miraculous that Mr. Naylor was not killed. It was his presence of mind that saved him. When he felt his horse going he grabbed the limb of a tree and cleared himself just in time, and there, while the horse struggled between life and death over precipitous ledges and through fallen timber, Mr. Naylor hung safely out of danger. It was some time before the horse could be extricated and made to stand.

The next day Mr. Fisher started out to find the runaway mule. He rode one of Mr. Hand's high stepping thoroughbreds, and just as he found the mule's fresh tracks—presto! Something happened and Mr. Fisher was knocked senseless. When he did wake up, he was over one hundred feet from the starting point, with his horse on top of him.

"I pinched myself to see if I was dreaming," said Mr. Fisher, lighting a cigarette and trying to put his painful ankle in a more comfortable position. "I then commenced diagnosing my case. I found my collar bone and shoulder slightly dislocated. My ankle was badly strained and I was bruised all over. I then concluded to let 'Buffalo' Jones look out for his own picture 'biz' and I went back to camp. My wife is a good doctor and I will soon be all right, but I don't think I will ever go out hunting bear or lion for accommodation again."

When he was asked if Old John and Little Fannie kept a "fox" up a high perpendicular tree for hours—such long hours that their poor tongues were purple from fatigue and the need of water, he replied:

"Well, you see, my eyes are awfully poor, and I could not see very well; but the colonel knows all about such things and he said it was just a fox."

Interest in Bounties

Father, may I get a bounty on lynx? Try it, mine goes sonny doodle; Hang all dos scalps mit der count, by jinks! Und told me vere goes all der "doodler?"

Mineral Hill people read in The Optic dated August 6th that M. Roybal, a resident of San Patricio, killed a wild cat that had done great damage among his sheep and goats. The article stated the bounty of $2 received for the hide was a small item compared with the great losses. Bounty received (?). Some one—anyone who knows anything at all about this "bounty received," have mercy on the people and fill up the aching void for information. Yes, the people here are simply dying for information. Did M. Roybal get $2 in gold, silver, nickel, copper, treasury or national bank notes; or was it a nice little promise to pay "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" if they "Meet on That Beautiful Shore?"

A large party of hunters and dogs started from Mr. Lowe's ranch Tuesday morning before daylight to try and capture that lion that hangs around Mr. Lowe's spring where he gets his supply of water. From all accounts, the lion is a huge fellow.

Mrs. Bell has been quite sick, but is able to come to the postoffice again.

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-Known E. Las Vegas People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of E. Las Vegas the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

Alfred Underwood, 806 National ave., East Las Vegas, N. Mex., says: "I have previously recommended Doan's Kidney Pills through the local papers and I have vouched for their merit whenever questioned in regard to my statement. I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills at the Center Block Pharmacy and they brought me positive relief from backache and kidney complaint. Since then I have taken this remedy off and on whenever I have had need of it and it has always done good work. If my kidneys do not act properly or if my back aches, I can depend upon Doan's Kidney Pills to drive away the trouble immediately."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Preliminary Talk

AY, papa," Bobby began. "Now—er—you know what you said once?" Bobby's father laid down his paper and frowned thoughtfully. "Was it something unusually brilliant?" he asked. "Or was it just one of my everyday remarks?"

"It was about my passing at school."

"It did look somewhat doubtful," his father said solemnly. "I hoped at first that you would make it, but I'm willing to make allowances, so if you didn't get through—"

"Oh, but I did!"

"Good! Let me congratulate you!" They shook hands formally and then Bobby settled back in the big chair. "It was an awful lot of work," he said. "Specially hist'ry. Gee, there ain't nobody but Mamie Kelly can remember half that stuff. Susie Herriek got 27 for her mark, but she ain't going up anyhow and she says she don't care. Oh, I bet she does, all right!"

"Of course she does."

"Anyhow, I'm glad she ain't going to be in my room next year. She's the limit. Billy says she's the stingiest girl he ever seen. She never gives even a girl a bite when she's got an apple and then she thinks we're fierce if we don't let her have some of ours. I'm glad she didn't pass."

"Here, young man, don't talk that way."

"Well, I don't care. I am glad. All the fellows are sore at her. Now, Nellie Foster passed all right. I thought at first she didn't, 'cause I seen her sitting in a corner crying. I ask her what's the matter and she said she was sorry for Susie Herriek. Say, wouldn't that make you laugh?"

"Nellie Foster seems to be the right sort, Bobby."

"Oh, sure she is. I gave her my Taft button and she stopped crying. It's busted some, but she can glue it. I told her I was glad she'd be in my room next year."

"That was handsome of you."

"Well, anyhow, I'm glad it's summer. I s'pose you'll go on your fishing trip now?"

"Not for awhile yet, but I have made all my arrangements."

"Say, papa, when you cast do you throw this way or twist your hand crooked like this?"

Bobby stood with his feet planted squarely and his arms waving in imminent danger of smashing the lamp, and his face was very earnest.

"Get my rod from the corner, and I'll show you," said his father.

Bobby brought the rod almost reverently and placed it in his father's hands.

"It's harder than it looks," he sighed when the lesson was over. "I don't believe I could hardly ever catch a thing."

"You'd like camping," his father said slowly. "The sky and the trees and the lapping of the water. I don't believe you'd mind the hard parts, either—the flies and mosquitoes and getting wet and tired."

"You bet I wouldn't!" Bobby cried, eagerly. "When I'm a man I'll go every year."

"Your mother's going to a hotel where you can play tennis and I'll come up later on."

"I don't know how to play tennis."

"You don't know how to fish, either," his father said. "I've engaged a real Indian to cook for me and be guide and he has a canoe."

"Oh, papa!"

Bobby was silent a long minute and then he spoke hesitatingly.

"You said—" he began.

"Yes?"

"You said if I passed you'd see that I had a lot of fun this summer and I don't call it a circus to go up to that crazy hotel."

"Why do you talk that way?"

"Well, I don't call that fun. Gee, you got to stay so awful clean and the lake never gets even rough enough to be fun swimming in it. It's a regular girls' place."

"Would you rather stay at home?"

"I should say not. All the fellows are going somewhere."

"Where do you want to go?"

"Camping!"

"In the cold and the rain? And walk miles and miles when it's steaming hot? And be wakened at night by owls and raccoons and hedgehogs and snakes? You aren't very big yet, you know."

"I'm bigger'n Billy," Bobby cried, indignantly. "I could use your flashlight easy if I wasn't afraid of busting it."

His father regarded him thoughtfully.

"We won't put it to the test," he said. "I'd rather not have it broken. Suppose, instead, you bring me that small new one from behind the davenport and see how it works."—Chicago Daily News.

A "Life-Saver."

One of the prominent statesmen at Washington is a total abstainer. His dinners, which are everything that is elegant and expensive, are served without wine. The only concession to conviviality is the Roman punch, flavored with Jamaica rum.

A boarder statesman, 100 ways removed from the teetotaler class, who invariably sits at these dinners, facetiously refers to this particular course as "the life-saving station."

BABY'S ITCHING WAS INTOLERABLE

Girl of Six Months had Fearful Attack of Eczema—Spread All Over Her Face and Eyes Began to Swell—Scratched Till Blood Came—Relieved in a Night and

CURED BY CUTICURA AFTER LONG SUFFERING

"When my little girl was six months old I noticed small red spots on her right cheek. I did not pay any attention to them but finally the spots grew so large that I sent for the doctor who said it was ringworm. He prescribed an ointment which I used for two weeks, but instead of helping the eruption, the ointment seemed to make it worse. Then I went to a second doctor who after examining the baby said it was eczema. He also gave me an ointment which did not help either. The disease in the meantime spread all over the face and the eyes began to swell. I became very anxious. The itching grew intolerable. I had to tie the baby's hands to the cradle to prevent her scratching. The cheeks were covered with blood and it was a terrible sight to see. I consulted doctors from September to December, but they were unable to cure the baby. I paid out from twenty to thirty dollars without relief."

"One of my friends told me of the Cuticura Remedies and I sent at once for a set which I began to use that evening. The next morning the baby's face was all white instead of red and you can imagine how surprised I was. I cannot find words enough to praise Cuticura and I do not know what would have become of my baby only for it. I used the Cuticura Remedies until the eczema entirely disappeared. The child is now three years old and quite well. I used three boxes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and I never used any other soap. I always recommend them whenever there is a chance for doing so. I will send you one of her pictures which she had taken just after she was healed. Mrs. P. E. Gumbin, Sheldon, Ia., July 13, 1928."

Cuticura Soap (25c), Ointment (50c), Resolvent (50c), and Cuticura Tablets (50c), are sold through the world. Write for them to J. C. Kennerly, Inc., 137 Columbia Ave., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free. Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

Act Quickly

and you'll save yourself a lot of suffering and trouble. If you have a sudden chill—or take cold—if you have colic, cramp or diarrhoea, don't wait a minute. Take at once a spoonful of Perry Davis' Painkiller in half a glass of hot water or milk. You'll be safe and on the right road to quick recovery. Then you'll escape serious illness. But you ought to have this tried and proven remedy on hand for immediate use. Being prepared is half the battle when there's pain to subdue. New size bottles 35c., also in 50c. sizes.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes, says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by all dealers.

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. I can use this to benefit of suffering humanity."
